I am a safe with a combination stuck onto it. It means that I am locked up but people can easily expose me.

The table on which the safe sits is what supports which is my bright and cheerful side.

Background

The trash can represents my messy attitude and my disorganized self.

The mouse holes represent my friends. The size of the hole is the size of their mouths.

The items on the road represent the people who have influence over me.

Colour

The grey means I am private and personal.

The black shows my mean side (which is not much).

The yellow represents my bright and cheerfulness.
